GEORGIA FRONTIERE

CHAIRMAN/OWNER

Now in her 26th season as chairman and owner of the St. Louis Rams, Georgia Frontiere is one of the most respected executives in the National Football League. As the First Lady of Sports in St. Louis, Georgia is poised to lead the Rams' celebration of the franchise's 10th season in the Gateway City.

And what a celebration it has been! Since relocating the Rams to her hometown in 1995, the Rams are one of the NFL's most successful teams and their traditional Rams' horns rank as one of the most popular brands in the sports and entertainment industries.

With 56 victories in the past five seasons, the Rams' win total is tied for the most in the National Football League. In addition, the Edward Jones Dome is the toughest venue for road teams in the NFL, as the Rams have the best home record since 1999. Under Georgia's leadership, this new golden era of Rams football has produced one Super Bowl championship, two NFC titles, three division championships, and four playoff berths in the past five seasons.

Georgia has been involved in the NFL since 1958. Carroll Rosenbloom, her late husband, was owner of the Baltimore Colts and in 1972, became owner of the Rams. Georgia assumed leadership of the franchise in 1979. That season, the team overcame numerous injuries and setbacks to win the NFC Championship and advance to Super Bowl XIV. During her tenure, the Rams have made 12 playoff appearances, won four division championships, three NFC Championships, and made three Super Bowl appearances, highlighted by the Super Bowl XXXIV victory over the Tennessee Titans.

Her role with the team and organization notwithstanding, Georgia also has been a pillar in the St. Louis community. Her philanthropy was punctuated in 1997, when Georgia and Vice Chairman Stan Kroenke created the St. Louis Rams Foundation. Through her efforts, the Rams and the Rams Foundation have donated more than $5,000,000 in grants, merchandise and tickets to charities in the St. Louis region, targeting a variety of groups whose emphasis is on youth, education, and the arts.

Frontiere's dedication to the advancement of youth is underscored by her commitment of more than $1,000,000 to The Fulfillment Fund, an organization which sponsors more than 2,000 high school students who are selected for having college potential, but whose financial opportunities are limited. In 1992, she initiated a contest that annually awards a $5,000 scholarship to a student who creates the winning illustration for the cover of the Rams' media guide.

Georgia is on the Executive Committee of the St. Louis Variety Club, serving on and contributing her time and singing talent to the Club's annual telethon. She plays a principal part in the "Bikes For Kids" program, which annually provides bicycles for children of low-income families. In 2003, she played hostess to over 300 youngsters at Rams Park, where the children received their bicycles and invitations to attend a Rams' game.

The American Heart Association honored Georgia, along with veteran news reporter Walter Cronkite, with the Missourian Award. This prestigious award is presented to Missouri native sons and daughters who have made outstanding contributions in business, civic activities, or the arts. For her St. Louis civic and charitable accomplishments, the St. Louis Ambassadors have named Georgia "Sportsperson of the Year." As a board member of the St. Louis Symphony, Georgia has helped build alliances between sports and cultural arts in St. Louis. Georgia also sits on the board of St. Louis' Herbert Hoover Boys and Girls Club, the St. Louis Zoo, and the Los Angeles Orphanage Guild. Georgia was named the "First Lady of Old Newsboys' Day" and was inducted into the Newsboys' Hall of Fame.

Georgia holds a Doctor of Philanthropy degree from Pepperdine University in Malibu, CA and is on the Board of Governors of Chapman College in Orange, CA. The Orange County Sheriff's Advisory Council presented Georgia, the council's founder, with a special award to show their appreciation. This organization provides bulletproof vests, canine units, vehicles and other essential equipment to law enforcement. She started Project 999, which has raised close to $1,000,000 to provide financial support for officers injured or fallen in the line of duty and their families. Georgia is also the recipient of the Ellis Island Medal of Honor, which cited her for "community involvement and for having greatly contributed to our national identity while preserving the distinct values of our ancestors."

Under Georgia's leadership, the Rams have annually supported the United Way. She appeared in a United Way public service announcement in 1997 and helped orchestrate the 25th anniversary of the NFL/United Way Partnership with a series of local activities in 1998. She is a member of the Alexis de Tocquerville Society for her contributions to the United Way, and serves on the United Way Board of Directors.

Frontiere also provided support and representation for the so-called "Pre-59ers," those 1,000 or so players who left the playing field before 1959 and thus did not qualify for the NFL's retirement plan. Georgia started a "Dire Need Fund" for the Los Angeles Chapter of the NFL Alumni Association. This led to the creation of a league-wide NFL Alumni Dire Need Fund for all retired players. Incidentally, Georgia often plays in the NFL Alumni Golf Tournaments, and in 2003 she was the honorary chairperson for the St. Louis Chapter's NFL Alumni Golf Tournament.

She is a board member of the Crohn's and Colitis Foundation of America, and a national board member of the American Foundation for AIDS Research, and occupies a similar position with the St. John's Ambulance Brigade of Great Britain, which provides free ambulance and emergency services throughout the United Kingdom. Georgia is also a board member of Wings of Hope, a humanitarian organization that provides air transportation to those requiring emergency medical attention and supplies, not only in the United States, but to the most remote areas of the world as well. In addition, Wings of Hope assists other charitable groups in combating malnutrition, disease and harsh living conditions worldwide.

Having grown up during World War II, she never forgot the young Americans who lost their lives fighting side by side with Great Britain's Royal Air Force. She realized another dream with the construction of a gallery in the American Air Museum in Duxford, England, where more than 30,000 names are permanently etched on the walls of the Georgia Frontiere Gallery in the museum. Together with actors James Stewart and Charlton Heston, she raised funds to help make the American Air Museum a reality. The museum, which houses many airplanes used in World War II, commemorates the American Airmen who fought in the air war over Europe for the cause of freedom. The opening in 1997 was dedicated by Queen Elizabeth and attended by Prince Philip, Prince Andrew, and Georgia's co-chairman Charlton Heston. She chaired the rededication of the Air Museum in September of 2002 with former president George Bush and Prince Charles.

Georgia is an accomplished soprano, having recently joined Bill Hayes and Richard Fredricks for an "Evening with Lerner and Lowe" with the St. Louis Symphony. She has performed several concerts with the Beverly Hills Pops Orchestra, and was twice a featured soloist for the Easter Sunrise Services at the Hollywood Bowl. Her love for music and opera influenced her to become a member of the Golden Horseshoe of the New York Metropolitan Opera, and she is a member of the Founders of The Los Angeles Music Center Opera board. She has underwritten scholarships for young students of the performing arts to pursue their education as a part of her commitment of helping others to achieve their dreams.

Georgia is the mother of two children, son Dale Carroll Rosenbloom, who is married to the former Kathleen Melville, and daughter Lucia Pamela Rodriguez, who is married to Lupe Rodriguez. She has six grandchildren.

E. STANLEY KROENKE

VICE CHAIRMAN/OWNER

Kroenke's emergence as a member of Rams ownership was critical in the effort to return professional football to St. Louis and his expertise was instrumental in the creation of Rams Park, the premier NFL training facility.

Completed in June, 1996, Rams Park has been a model for other NFL training sites, sitting on 20 acres in St. Louis County and conveniently located minutes from the Lambert Field Airport. Rams Park includes three natural grass, outdoor practice fields, an indoor practice facility, and 90,000 square feet for football operations and administration.

An avid sportsman, Kroenke is owner of the Denver Nuggets National Basketball Association team and the Colorado Avalanche National Hockey League team, which he purchased in 2000. Kroenke is also part owner of the Colorado Crush Arena Football Team with Denver Broncos' owner Pat Bowlen and Hall of Fame QB John Elway, and owns the Colorado Mammoth lacrosse team and Colorado Rapids soccer team. In his first year of ownership, the Avalanche won the Stanley Cup. In addition, all of Kroenke's franchise qualified for the playoffs in their respective sports.

Kroenke is currently overseeing two of his most ambitious projects to date. In September 2004, he will launch Altitude Sports and Entertainment network. The 24-hour regional sports network will be the home channel for the Colorado Avalanche and Denver Nuggets.

On July 26, Kroenke Sports Entertainment announced plans to build a state-of-the-art soccer facility of over 160 acres in Commerce City, Co. The complex will include a 20,000-seat soccer stadium for the Colorado Rapids and up to 20 other fields for youth soccer. Stan will develop an additional 200 acres around the facility for commercial development. All told, the project is expected to create 500 jobs for the community.

The Rocky Mountain News recently named Kroenke the second-most influential person in the Denver arts community, saying "No other person entertains more people more often."

Kroenke's extensive business interests include his serving as chairman and owner of The Kroenke Group, a private real estate investment and development company with offices throughout the United States and headquarters in Columbia, Missouri. During the past three decades, Kroenke has earned a reputation as one of the nation's leading developers of shopping centers and apartment buildings.

Kroenke's current and former board and trustee memberships include Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., Central Bank Holding Company, Boone County National Bank in Columbia, Community Investments Partnership of St. Louis, the College of the Ozarks, and the Missouri Basketball Hall of Fame. Stan also has active membership in St. Louis's Civic Progress, which provides support and leadership for various community improvements that address economic development, education, and quality of life.

Kroenke has undergraduate and graduate degrees from the University of Missouri and is an active supporter of Mizzou athletic programs, including the Dan Devine Club, named for the former Tigers football coach. E. Stanley Kroenke, named after baseball legends Enos Slaughter and Stan Musial, was born in Cole Camp, Missouri, and grew up in Mora, Missouri. Stan and his wife, Ann, have a daughter, Whitney, and a son, Josh.

Kroenke visits with young Rams fans prior to kickoff.

JOHN SHAW

President

Year in NFL: 25
Year with Rams: 25

Understated, but never underspoken, John Shaw has been a significant component of the Rams' success and continued evolvement of the National Football League for three decades.

Shaw, who joined the Rams in 1980, directs all aspects of the Rams' operation, and has been involved in many critical decisions involving the Rams and the NFL for more than 20 years. On April 15, 1999, Shaw and Jay Zygmunt, Rams President of Football Operations, negotiated a successful trade with the Indianapolis Colts for running back Marshall Faulk. The Rams sent 1999 second- and fifth-round draft choices to the Colts for Faulk, who has cemented his status as a first ballot Hall of Fame player as the Rams became the NFL's most exciting team over the past four seasons. Since coming to St. Louis, Faulk has been the league's NFL Most Valuable Player (2000), and the league's offensive player of the year three consecutive years (1999-2001).

Shaw, as Rams President, also was the principal figure in negotiating the return of professional football to St. Louis in 1995 and has been an active participant in shaping the future of the NFL as a member of the league's Management Council Executive Committee. John was a significant contributor to the enactment of a Collective Bargaining Agreement with the NFL Players' Association that brought labor peace to the NFL in 1993.

A native of Brooklyn, New York, Shaw moved to San Diego as a youngster, attended high school there, and graduated as class valedictorian from the University of San Diego with a bachelor's degree in accounting. He continued his education at New York University School of Law, from which he received a Juris Doctor Degree, and is a member of the California Bar. John is married (Lori) and has a daughter, Alexx.

JAY ZYGMUNT

President, Football Operations

Year in NFL: 23
Year with Rams: 23

Zygmunt, named President of Football Operations on February 4, 2000, is responsible for all phases of Rams' football, including the management of the NFL salary cap.

The date of April 15, 1999, will be noted for one of the most significant trades in team history and perhaps NFL history as well. Jay and team President John Shaw acquired perennial Pro Bowl running back Marshall Faulk from the Indianapolis Colts in exchange for second- and fifth-round draft choices. Since that historic trade, the Rams have won 56 games, tied for the most victories in the NFL over that time.

Zygmunt is one of the NFL most respected football veterans. In 2001, Jay was runner-up to Pittsburgh Steelers owner Art Rooney as the NFL's Executive of the Year in balloting among NFL owners and executives conducted by The Sporting News. That year, Zygmunt directed one of the most dramatic offseasons in Rams history, when he engineered trades that brought the Rams all-Pro cornerback Aeneas Williams and two additional first-round draft choices. The Rams opened the 2001 season with eight new defensive starters and a new coaching staff on defense and ended the year with a NFC Championship and a return to the Super Bowl. In March 2003, Zygmunt helped engineer a trade to acquire all-Pro right tackle Kyle Turley.

He has signed 23 Ram first round draft choices as well as scores of unrestricted free agents since joining the organization in 1982 as General Counsel. Jay was the teams' Executive Vice President from 1996-1999.

A native of Chicago, Zygmunt graduated from the University of Notre Dame in 1973 with a bachelor's degree in business administration and is a member of the Sorin Society. Jay earned his Juris Doctor degree from the Northwestern University School of Law where he has been recognized as a distinguished alumnus and is a member of the Wigmore Club.

Zygmunt is a member of the Illinois Bar and also is a Certified Public Accountant. He is a member of the Sports Lawyers Association and the American Bar Association's Forum Committee on Entertainment and Sports Industries. Jay was the chairman of the 2003 Multiple Sclerosis Sports Celebrity Dinner.

Zygmunt, along with Rams QB Chris Chandler and WR Dane Looker, won the NFL Alumni Golf Tournament this offseason and qualified to represent the St. Louis chapter of the NFL Alumni in the Super Bowl of Golf Tounament next year in Arizona.

When time permits, Jay enjoys deep-sea fishing and golf. In 2001, Zygmunt landed a 600-pound blue marlin off Cabo San Lucas in Baja California. The event was special in more than one way. Watching was Joe Zygmunt, Jay's 80–plus year-old father and fishing partner. Jay resides in Clayton, Missouri.

Charley Armey

General Manager

Year in NFL: 25
Year with Rams: 8

An NFL veteran of a quarter century, Armey oversees the Rams' college and pro personnel departments, among other responsibilities. Armey, who joined the Rams following the 1997 NFL Draft, had spent the previous seven seasons (1991-97) with the New England Patriots as Assistant Director of Player Operations, negotiating with and signing drafted players and free agents. He also held the title of Director of College Scouting with New England.

Armey was a scout for the Atlanta Falcons from 1988-90 and a scout for the Green Bay Packers from 1985-87. He served the Denver Gold, Memphis Showboats, and Chicago Blitz of the USFL as an assistant coach, director of scouting, and as assistant general manager from 1983-85. He was the Gold's head coach for one game in 1983 and was a scout for the Buffalo Bills from 1978-82.

Charley began his career as linebackers coach at North Dakota State in 1968, was head coach and athletic director at Montana Tech from 1969-70, defensive coordinator at Montana, 1971-73, and assistant head coach and offensive and defensive coordinator at Colorado State from 1973-78.

Armey, a four-year veteran of the U.S. Navy, holds a bachelor's degree from Valley City State in North Dakota and a master's degree from North Dakota State. Armey enjoys classical music and reading, and authored a book, "Winning Football with the 4-3 Defense." Charley and his wife, Audrey, reside in Lake St. Louis, Missouri, and have two daughters, Lisa and Kellie, and three grandsons, Travis and Tristam and Charley.

Bob Wallace

Executive Vice President and General Counsel

Year in NFL: 24
Year with Rams: 10

One of the highest-ranking minority executives in professional sports, Wallace has been in the NFL for 24 years serving in a variety of capacities ranging from chief contract negotiator becoming one of the first African Americans to negotiate player contracts, to his current position of overseeing the business operations for one of today's premier sports teams.

In his current role as the Rams' executive vice president and general counsel, Wallace's responsibilities include broadcast and stadium negotiations, strategic planning and departmental supervision, in addition to overseeing all revenue generating activities of the franchise.

Before joining the Rams in 1995, Wallace was the Assistant to the President, General Counsel and chief contract negotiator for the Philadelphia Eagles from 1991-1994. Prior to that, he began his professional career with the St. Louis football Cardinals as the legal counsel and chief contract negotiator while representing the St. Louis law firm of Guilfoil, Petzall and Shoemake from 1981-1991. This was actually his second stint with the football Cardinals, as he got his initial taste of the NFL while serving as a training camp assistant for the team at age 14.

He was also exposed to the NFL as a legal intern for the late NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle in 1980, while earning his law degree from Georgetown University in Washington D.C. Wallace received his undergraduate degree from Yale University, where he also lettered as a running back for the Bulldogs.

His leadership within the sports world has translated to the community where he is active in many civic and charitable organizations, including serving as president of Giant Steps of St. Louis, a school for autistic children. He is also the Secretary/Treasurer of the St. Louis Sports Commission, a non-profit organization that generates economic benefit and enhanced quality of life in the St. Louis region through sports. Additionally, Wallace serves on a number of area boards, including the United Way, Urban League of Metropolitan St. Louis, Webster University School of Business and Circus Flora.

A board member of the Sports Lawyers' Association, as well as a member of the Sports and Entertainment Division of the American Bar Association, Wallace has shared his legal expertise as an instructor in sports law at the St. Louis University School of Law and received a certificate of recognition for law and education projects form the St. Louis Public Schools. He continues to make numerous speaking engagements annually to audiences ranging from local school children to national business leaders.

A New York City native, Wallace currently resides in St. Louis with his wife, Julie, and their two sons, Grant, 11, and Eric, 10. He is an avid sportsman who especially enjoys basketball, racquetball, and golf.

Year in NFL: 13
Year with Rams: 11

The St. Louis Rams are one of the most dominant, and exciting teams not only in the NFL, but NFL history. The man behind the creative, exhilarating Rams' attack is Mike Martz.

Chairman Georgia Frontiere appointed Martz as the 21st head coach in franchise history on February 2, 2000. Now in his fifth season as head coach, Martz is the longest tenured head coach in St. Louis Rams history, and is the longest tenured Rams' head coach in over a decade, when John Robinson led the franchise for nine seasons from 1983-91.

Martz's 45 wins is the fourth highest total in franchise history, trailing only legendary coaches John Robinson (79), Chuck Knox (72), and George Allen (49). Martz, who joined the Rams in 1992 as an unpaid assistant coach, began to earn acclaim in 1995 when second-year wideout Isaac Bruce set franchise records in receptions (119) and receiving yards (1,781). Martz had a two-year coaching stint with the Washington Redskins (1997-98), but since returning to St. Louis, the Rams and the NFL were changed forever.

As offensive coordinator, Martz coordinated a remarkable turnaround when he took over the Rams' offense for the first time in the 1999 Super Bowl XXXIV-championship season. Guiding former Arena League quarterback Kurt Warner and exploiting the running-receiving talents of Marshall Faulk, Martz's offense averaged 401 yards a game, compared to 280 the season before, and scored 526 points; 285 more than in 1998. Only two teams had ever scored more points. The Rams were only the fourth team since the start of the 16-game schedule in 1978 and sixth since 1950 to outscore their opponents by at least 250 points. The Rams' margin of 17.8 points a game more than opponents was third highest in the NFL since 1950.

But that was just the beginning:

• In fact, since 1999, the Rams' 56 regular season wins are tied for the most in the NFL over that span. In addition, Martz's 24 wins in his first two seasons is the third highest in NFL history. Martz' 43 regular season wins in his first four seasons as head coach is tied for the third highest in NFL history. Martz' .672 regular season winning percentage is tied for the fourth highest in the NFL in the Super Bowl era with a minimum of 50 games coached.

• The Rams led the NFL in offense from 1999-2001, producing three consecutive NFL Most Valuable Players – QB Kurt Warner in 1999 and 2001, and RB Marshall Faulk in 2000. It was the first time in league history one NFL team had the outright winner of the MVP award three consecutive seasons.

• Since 1999, the Rams have averaged 29.5 points a game and nearly 390 yards per game in total offense.

• In 2001, the Rams became the first team to score at least 500 points in three consecutive seasons.

• Over the past five seasons, the Rams have broken 17 NFL offensive records, and tied six others. In addition, the Rams have set a whopping 95 team records, and tied 38 others.

• In 2000, the engine that is the Rams' offense motored to a franchise-best 540 points and averaged 442 yards a game.

Not a one-dimensional coach, Martz addressed a critical defensive overhaul before the 2001 season. Beginning with the NFL free agency period in February, the Rams signed or traded for several significant defensive players, then surprised the football community by selecting defensive players with their five choices in the first three rounds of the 2001 NFL draft. That season, the Rams allowed 273 points, nearly 200 points less than they did in 2000, the second largest point improvement in NFL history.

In 2003, the Rams led the NFC and were tied for second in the NFL with five defensive touchdowns.

Martz's philosophy is not complex: "This is a game of speed and attitude," he says. Offensively, Martz does not try to fit players to a system. Rather, he fits a system to the players. Mike began preparing for this coaching opportunity at San Diego's Madison High in the 1960s. He spent many Saturday nights at San Diego Stadium watching Coryell's San Diego State offensive powerhouses and Sunday afternoons watching Sid Gillman's offensively creative San Diego Chargers.

Martz is a summa cum laude graduate of Fresno State, where he played tight end in 1972. He was a tight end at the University of California-Santa Barbara in 1971 and transferred to Fresno when UCSB dropped football. Martz also played two seasons at San Diego Mesa Community College.

In 2004, Martz was added to the NFL's competition committee, which oversees all aspects of the game on the field, and recommends rules and policy changes to NFL clubs.

Mike's first coaching appointment was at Bullard High in Fresno, California, in 1973. He also coached at San Diego Mesa (1974, 1976-77), San Jose State (1975), Santa Ana College in Santa Ana, California (1978), Fresno State (1979), University of the Pacific (1980-81), and Minnesota (1982). He was quarterbacks and receivers coach at Arizona State from 1983-87 and was the Sun Devils' offensive coordinator in 1984 and from 1988-91.

But Martz is more than just a football coach. During the offseason, Martz has been active in causes ranging from Alzheimer's research and funding to hosting a coaching clinic for area coaches. In 2003, Martz was asked to speak to the Missouri House of Representatives, as they were facing problems balancing the state budget. While he declined to speak on solving the complex budget issue, he addressed the Rams' philosophy, the high standard of excellence the team strives for on the field, and out of the box thinking. In April 2003, Martz gave a passionate testimony before a United States Senate committee, urging increased federal funding for Alzheimer's research (Martz' late mother Betty suffered from the disease). This past June, Martz was a featured speaker at the Blanchette Rockefeller Neurosciences Institute Black-Tie Gala hosted by U.S. Senator John "Jay" D. Rockefeller IV (D-WV), who's mother also suffered from Alzheimer's disease.

In each of the past three years, Martz has addressed St. Louis school superintendents on leadership and character. In June, Martz spoke to 150 area business people and educators at the 7th annual St. Louis Rams briefing presented by AAIM Management Association, a leading provider of training and development services to business organizations.

For the third consecutive year, Martz hosted a high school football coaches clinic, the only team-sponsored high school coaching clinic in the National Football League, which had over 2,000 attendees at the three clinics. Martz also hosted his third annual golf tournament, which raises funds for Alzheimer's research and the Make-A-Wish Foundation. Martz and his wife Julie have joined Adam and Jana Timmerman for the past three years as chairs of the St. Louis Rams Super Blood Drive. The Super Blood Drive, in partnership with the American Red Cross, is the largest single day drive in the St. Louis community. Mike and Julie have also served as honorary chairs of the National Council of Jewish Women's Back to School Store, which provides 400 elementary students from low-income families with new clothing, winter coats, shoes, backpacks, personal care items, and school supplies free of charge.

In July of 2003, Coach Martz was named the World Sports Humanitarian Hall of Fame's Most Pro-Active Coach. In each of the past two seasons, Martz was named Staples Coach of the Week Award. Part of the award involved speaking at a school assembly about how he became a head coach and stressing the importance of staying in school. While Staples presented each school with a $5,000 gift certificate to purchase school supplies, Coach Martz added his own donation of $10,000 to each presentation.

Martz was born in Sioux Falls, South Dakota, and moved to San Diego at age eight. Martz and his wife Julie have three sons, Chris, David, and Tim, and a daughter, Emily. The Martzes' reside in Wildwood, Missouri.

Bill Kollar

Defensive Line

College: Montana State
Year in NFL: 24
Year with Rams: 4
Birthdate: 11/27/52

Kollar joined Mike Martz's staff as defensive line coach in 2001, and the unit quickly emerged as one of the toughest and most relentless front fours in the National Football League. In three years coaching the D-line, Kollar has helped DE Leonard Little emerge as a premier sack artist, with 41.5 sacks the past three seasons. Last season, Little finished fourth in the NFL with 12.5 sacks and earned his first Pro Bowl invitation.

Kollar was defensive line coach for the Atlanta Falcons from 1990-00. RAMS' OPPONENTS THROUGH 2009

The NFL's new scheduling format includes the following elements:

- There will be an increased common-opponent emphasis with every team in a division playing against 14 common opponents.
- All teams will play each other on a regular basis, home and away, for a more consistent presentation of attractive games, eliminating the many schedule aberrations of the past.
- Teams are guaranteed to play all non-division opponents in their conference at least once every three years, and at home at least once every six years.
- Every AFC team will play every NFC team once every four years, and at home once every eight years.
- A team's record from the previous year will have less of a bearing on its schedule, with only two (rather than four) opponents being based on the previous year's standing. Thus, the so-called "easy" fifth-place schedules are eliminated.
- The division in which a team resides will be less of a factor in a team's won-loss record with 10 of 16 games each year being against non-division teams.

Under the new scheduling formula, every team within a division will play 16 games as follows:

- Home and away against its three division opponents (6 games).
- The four teams from another division within its conference on a rotating three-year cycle (4 games).
- The four teams from a division in the other conference on a rotating four-year cycle (4 games).
- Two intraconference games based on the prior year's standings (2 games). These games will match a first-place team against the first-place teams in the two same-conference divisions the team is not scheduled to play that season. The second-place, third-place, and fourth-place teams in a conference will be matched in the same way each year.

2003 SEASON

2003 SEASON GAME SUMMARIES

Game 1 — New York Giants 23, RAMS 13

Giants Stadium | September 7, 2003 | Sunny, 78 degrees

The Rams lost their second consecutive season opener, 23-13, to the New York Giants on NFL Kickoff Weekend 2003. QB Kurt Warner threw a career-high 54 passes with 34 completions for 342 yards and one touchdown, a 37-yard pass to WR Torry Holt. Warner's 54 attempts were the second-most pass attempts (Mark Rypien, 55, vs. Buffalo 12/10/95) in franchise history. Warner also had his 28th career 300-plus yard passing game. WR Isaac Bruce set game-highs as he hauled in eight passes for 120 yards. Rookie WR Shaun McDonald quickly contributed to the offense in his NFL regular season debut by catching six passes for 46 yards. The Rams got on the board in the first quarter after a four-play drive that resulted in a 39-yard field goal by K Jeff Wilkins. After forcing a punt on the Giants' following possession, the Rams took over on their own six-yard line. Two plays later, Warner was sacked by Giants' rookie DT William Joseph which caused a fumble in the end zone that was recovered by Giants DE Kenny Holmes, putting the Giants up 7-3 with 2:10 left in the first quarter. At the start of the second quarter, in which the Rams converted a fake field goal on fourth down, Giants' LB Michael Barrow forced a Warner fumble that was recovered by Holmes. After the turnover, the Rams red-zone defense forced the Giants to pull up for a 24-yard field goal by K Matt Bryant to extend the Giants lead to 10-3. After a DE Leonard Little forced fumble (recovered by DE Grant Wistrom), the Rams put together a six-play, 28-yard drive to set Jeff Wilkins up for a 28-yard field goal to narrow the margin 10-6 at halftime. After the Rams were forced to punt in their first possession of the second half, the Giants put together an eight-play, 25-yard drive that resulted in a 47-yard field goal by Bryant to extend the Giants lead, 13-6. After a Rams three-and-out, the Giants engineered a six-play 53-yard drive that ended with a one-yard touchdown run by RB Brian Mitchell to lift the Giants lead, 20-6. On the second play of the ensuing Rams possession, Giants' FS Omar Stoutmire intercepted a Warner pass at the Giants' 33 yard line. Following the turnover, the Giants put three more points on the board with a 44-yard field goal by Bryant to put the Giants up 23-6. Three plays into the fourth quarter, Warner found Holt in the end zone for a 37-yard touchdown strike for the final margin.

Game 2 RAMS 27, San Francisco 49ers 24, OT

Edward Jones Dome | September 14, 2003 | 75 degrees

The Rams won their regular season home opener in overtime, 27-24, against division rival San Francisco 49ers. The victory was the first home overtime contest in St. Louis for the Rams. RB Marshall Faulk rushed 18 times for 57 yards with one touchdown and caught four passes for 33 yards. Faulk's combined numbers placed him 10th for all-purpose yards on the NFL's all-time list. The 49ers took advantage of early field position as RB Arlen Harris fumbled a P Bill LaFleur punt that was recovered by 49ers Dwaine Carpenter on the Rams' 11-yard line. After a false start penalty by 49ers Kwame Harris, QB Jeff Garcia completed a 16-yard TD pass to WR Tai Streets to put the 49ers up 7-0 with 11:49 left in the first quarter. On the ensuing possession, the Rams took over on their own 31-yard line as Marc Bulger completed four of four passes and orchestrated a nine-play 69-yard scoring drive. The drive ended with an 11-yard TD strike to WR Torry Holt to tie the score, 7-7 in the first quarter. The 49ers compiled a 10-play drive that set up K Jeff Chandler for a 35-yard field goal to give the 49ers' a 10-7 lead with 8:50 left in the first half. The score remained 10-7 going into halftime. The Rams defense forced a three and out on the 49ers first possession to start the second half. Starting on their own seven-yard line, Bulger engineered a 12-play 93-yard scoring drive, their longest drive since 2002 (vs. San Diego 11/10). At the start of the drive, Faulk left the field with a bruised eye as RB Lamar Gordon rushed six times for 33 yards. Faulk re-entered the game and capped off the drive with a two-yard TD run to put the Rams ahead 14-10 with 6:43 remaining in the third quarter. The 49ers quickly answered on the ensuing possession as RB Kevan Barlow ran for a 19-yard TD run to give the 49ers back the lead, 17-14, with 1:23 left in the third quarter. The Rams began the fourth quarter on the 49ers' 46-yard line as Bulger found WR Dane Looker in the end zone six plays later for Looker's first career touchdown. After the Rams defense forced another three and out by the 49ers, The Rams put together another long drive of 67 yards where Faulk rushed eight times for 29 yards and resulted in a 29-yard FG by Wilkins to extend the margin 17-24 with 3:24 left in the game. The 49ers started their ensuing possession at their own 15-yard line where Garcia ushered an 11-play 85-yard drive that ended with a 13-yard TD strike to Owens to even the margin, 24-24, taking the game into overtime. The Rams capitalized on winning the coin toss as Harris returned Chandler's kick 42 yards to move the Rams closer to scoring position. Two plays later, Faulk hauled in a Bulger screen pass for 22 yards to set Wilkins up for a 28-yard game-winning FG for the final margin.

After an interception by LB Tommy Polley, the first of his career, that he returned for four yards, the Rams answered quickly with a six-play, 33-yard drive that ended with a four-yard run by QB Marc Bulger to tie the score, 7-7. With 2:02 left in the first quarter, the Rams took possession at their own 37-yard line where Bulger engineered a 14-play, 63-yard drive that culminated with a seven-yard TD strike to WR Isaac Bruce to extend the lead, 14-7. On their following possession, the Rams drove eight plays for 61 yards to set up K Jeff Wilkins for a 28-yard field goal to extend the Rams' lead, 17-7. On the Seahawks' ensuing possession, QB Matt Hasselbeck put together an eight-play, 46-yard drive that resulted in a 36-yard field goal by K Josh Brown to narrow the margin going into halftime, 17-10. The Rams started the second-half with possession at their 25-yard line, where Bulger ushered a 10-play, 60-yard drive that resulted in a 33-yard Wilkins field goal to extend the Rams lead, 20-10. On the Seahawks' second possession of the third quarter at their own 30-yard line, Hasselbeck compiled a nine-play 70-yard drive that ended with a 15-yard TD pass to WR Darrell Jackson to narrow the margin 23-17. Edward Jones Dome | October 13, 2003 | 75 degrees

The Rams defeated the Atlanta Falcons, 36-0, improving their record to 3-2. The Rams' first ever Monday Night Football game coming off a bye week was also their first shutout since 2001 (10/8/01, at Detroit, 35-0), which also fell on Monday Night. WR Torry Holt caught 11 passes for 161 yards and two TDs for his third 100-yard receiving game this season. Holt passed former Rams' WR Jack Snow for 5th place on the Rams' career reception list. The Rams' defense took control early as S Aeneas Williams intercepted a QB Doug Johnson pass in the end zone on the Falcons second possession of the game. With the Rams backed up on their own one-yard line, QB Marc Bulger engineered a 10-play, 89-yard drive that set K Jeff Wilkins up for a 28-yard FG to give the Rams a 3-0 lead. The defense continued to pressure the Falcons in the second quarter as Williams forced and recovered a TE Alge Crumpler fumble on the Rams' 39-yard line, which was returned for three yards. The turnover marked the first time in Williams' career he has had at least two takeaways in a regular season game. With 5:55 left in the first half, the Rams offense drove 58 yards in 10 plays, ending with a Bulger three-yard TD run to extend the Rams' lead, 10-0. With nine seconds remaining in the first half, TE Richard Angulo blocked a K Jay Feely 60-yard FG attempt to go into halftime, 10-0. The Rams opened up the second half with a four-play, 69-yard drive as Bulger threw a 21-yard TD strike to Holt to extend the margin 17-0. With 3:04 remaining in the third quarter, after Falcons CB Ray Buchanan intercepted a Bulger pass on the Falcons' one-yard line for no gain, DE Grant Wistrom tackled Falcons RB T.J. Duckett in the end zone for a safety to extend the Rams' lead 19-0. At the start of the fourth quarter, Bulger engineered a five-play, 69-yard drive in which he connected with Holt again on a 14-yard TD pass to further the margin, 26-0. After Atlanta turned the ball over on downs, Bulger ushered another scoring drive of six plays, 11-yards to set Wilkins up for a 38-yard FG to extend the Rams' lead, 29-0. On Atlanta's ensuing possession, CB Travis Fisher intercepted a QB Kurt Kittner pass and returned it 74 yards for a touchdown, resulting in the final margin.

NFC Divisional Playoff Carolina Panthers 29, RAMS 23, 2OT

Edward Jones Dome | January 10, 2004 | 72 degrees

The NFC West Champion Rams lost in double overtime to the Carolina Panthers, 29-23, in an NFC Divisional Playoff contest, snapping the Rams 14-game home winning streak. RB Marshall Faulk rushed 19 times for 53 yards with one touchdown and hauled in a franchise playoff-high-tying nine passes for 78 yards. K Jeff Wilkins set a franchise playoff milestone as he converted five out of six field goals. The Rams were first to get on the board as QB Marc Bulger ushered an 11-play, 81-yard drive to set K Jeff Wilkins up for a 20-yard field goal to give the Rams the early lead, 3-0. On Carolina's ensuing possession, Rams' LB Tommy Polley picked off a QB Jake Delhomme pass, returning it 37 yards to give the Rams possession at Carolina's 25-yard line. The Rams capitalized off the turnover as Bulger drove the Rams 17 yards in six plays, resulting in a Wilkins 26-yard field goal to extend the lead, 6-0. On Carolina's following possession, on third and five from the Rams' five-yard line, DE Leonard Little forced a Delhomme fumble that was recovered in the endzone by Panthers' WR Mushin Muhammad to give Carolina the lead, 7-6. On the Rams' ensuing possession, Bulger ushered an eight-play, 48-yard drive, setting Wilkins up for a 24-yard field goal to give the Rams the lead again, 9-7. Carolina answered back on their following possession as RB Deshaun Foster rushed seven times for 42 yards, ending the drive with a seven-yard touchdown run to give the Panthers the lead, 10-9. The Rams opened the second half with Bulger driving the Rams 42 yards in eight plays, setting Wilkins up for a 51-yard field goal to give the Rams the lead, 12-10. On Carolina's following possession, Delhomme drove the Panthers 49 yards in seven plays to set K John Kasay up for a 52-yard field goal to give the Panthers the lead, 13-12. On the Panthers' next stanza of plays, Delhomme drove the Panthers 64 yards in 13 plays, setting up Kasay for a 34-yard field goal to extend their lead, 16-12. The Panthers resumed possession again after an interception by Panthers' S Mike Minter giving Carolina the ball at their own 27-yard line where Delhomme drove the Panthers 73 yards in seven plays, ending the drive with a seven-yard TD run by RB Brad Hoover to extend Carolina's lead, 23-12. The Rams next scoring drive began with 6:29 left in regulation as Bulger engineered a 15-play, 57-yard drive capped off by a one-yard TD run by Faulk and followed by a WR Dane Looker reception for the two-point conversion to narrow the margin, 23-20. On the ensuing kickoff, Wilkins recovered his own onside attempt, allowing Bulger to orchestrate the Rams into field goal range as Wilkins converted a 33-yard field goal on the final play of regulation to send the game into overtime. In overtime, the Panthers Kasay missed a 45-yard attempt, then Bulger connected with WR Isaac Bruce for 26-yards to set Wilkins up for a 53-yard attempt that fell short. On the first play of the second overtime, Delhomme threw a 69-yard TD pass to WR Steve Smith for the final margin.

RAMS HONORS

Each year, the Rams honor four players with special awards. The players and coaches combine to vote on two of the awards, the Daniel F. Reeves Memorial Award and the Carroll Rosenbloom Memorial Award, while the players vote on the Carl Ekern Spirit of the Game Award and the Ed Block Courage Award. A description of each award:

Daniel F. Reeves Memorial Award
Given to the team's Most Valuable Player. The award was established in 1969 in honor of the former owner of the Rams, Dan Reeves, who was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1967. Reeves owned the Rams from 1941-71 and claimed World Championships in 1945 and 1951. He was the first to integrate football in the modern era with the signing of Woody Strode and Kenny Washington in 1946.

Carroll Rosenbloom Memorial Award
Given to the team's Rookie of the Year. The award was established following the passing of former owner Carroll Rosenbloom in 1979. Rosenbloom became the owner of the Rams when he orchestrated an unprecedented franchise trade in 1972. Rosenbloom traded the Baltimore Colts to Robert Irsay for the Rams. The Rams won an NFL record seven consecutive NFC West titles from 1973-79 under Rosenbloom's leadership.

Carl Ekern Spirit of the Game Award
Established in 1990, the award is given to the player who best exemplifies sportsmanship, ethic, and commitment to his teammates. Those traits were displayed by former Rams linebacker Carl Ekern, killed in an automobile accident in 1990. Ekern was a starter for the Rams from 1982-88 and earned an invitation to the Pro Bowl in 1986.

Ed Block Courage Award
Ed Block was the head trainer for the Baltimore Colts for 23 years. When the Ed Block Courage Award was founded in 1978, it honored a Colts player for showing courage on and off the field. In 1984, it became a league-wide award honoring one member from each NFL team. Proceeds from the award and the Ed Block Foundation go to support and provide housing for abused children.

2004 ST. LOUIS RAMS ON RADIO

The St. Louis Rams Radio Network will feature the tandem of Steve Savard and Jack Snow, who will anchor gameday broadcasts on flagship radio station 103.3 KLOU-FM. Malcolm Briggs reports from the sideline to compliment Savard□s call of the play-by-play action and expert commentary from Snow.

Savard is the Sports Director for KMOV-TV in St. Louis. Before entering broadcasting he was a two-time all-MIAA linebacker at Northwest Missouri State University. He signed with Dallas as a rookie free agent in 1986 before being released during training camp. The following year Savard spent the season with the Cowboys on injured reserve after suffering a neck injury in the preseason.

Snow enjoyed an 11-year career with the Rams at wide receiver. He ranks fifth in team history in receiving yards (6,012) and seventh in career receptions (340). Snow also had a stint with the Rams in the coaching ranks, coaching receivers in 1982. He was a first-round draft choice in 1965 out of Notre Dame by the Minnesota Vikings before being traded to the Rams.

CHAMPIONS ON AND OFF THE FIELD. . .

"The Rams present a tough, inspired, cutting edge organization - from top to bottom; on the field and off. To have so effectively provided leadership in areas such as diversity awareness, public health, and sports philanthropy, the Rams offer a model of corporate citizenship for all to follow." - Greg Johnson, Executive Director, Sports Philanthropy Project

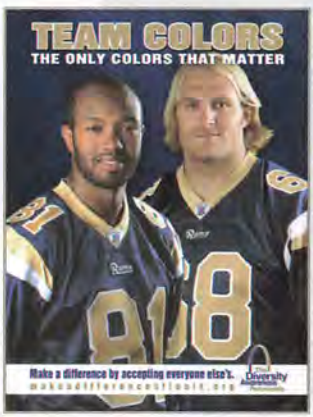
Cornerstone Programs

In order to provide the greatest impact to the bi-state area, the St. Louis Rams Foundation focuses the majority of its resources on the following cornerstone programs, designed to positively impact youth in the areas of education, literacy, health, and recreation.

Community First Youth Ticket Program

Community First allows schools and non-profit youth organizations the opportunity to earn tickets to Rams home games by "putting the community first" and developing and implementing fitness, literacy and youth football service projects. The program — sponsored by National City, Corp. — goes beyond a simple volunteer initiative to encourage civic participation and healthy decision-making.

The students address community needs while strengthening their mastery of academic subjects and good citizenship skills. The ultimate goal of the program is to expose kids to the overall benefits of volunteerism and instill a desire to continue contributing beyond this project. The program has generated more than 25,000 hours of community service since its inception in 1998.



Diversity Awareness Partnership

An organization with a long tradition of embracing diversity, the Rams were the first professional sports team in the modern era to sign an African-American player — even before Jackie Robinson broke the color barrier in Major League Baseball. Years later, the team remains committed to promoting diversity and inclusion. After helping launch the Diversity Awareness Partnership (DAP) in 2000, the Rams continue to unite organizations in the effort to reduce bias and discrimination, and promote the value of difference among the people of St. Louis. The most recent example of this collaboration is the Edward Jones' Give Respect — Get Respect Youth Program that has engaged middle and high school students, teachers and members of today's workforce in this pursuit of acceptance.

Get Into the Game

With positive youth development a priority of their community outreach efforts, the Rams have leveraged the influence that professional athletes have on youngsters by creating a curriculum and companion video featuring Rams players discussing such character traits as commitment, cooperation, caring and honesty.

Together the curriculum and video make for a powerful program, which grabs students' attention and encourages them to make positive life choices to achieve their goals. The program is being implemented in hundreds of area schools through the CHARACTERplus team of Cooperating School Districts (CSD) and KMOV Channel 4. The Rams then underscore their commitment to character education by rewarding schools, which best integrate the Get Into the Game curriculum into their classrooms, with a player visit and tickets to a Rams home game.

Emerging Leaders

The St. Louis Rams and Rams Foundation joined with the Coro Leadership – St. Louis to develop an educational initiative entitled the St. Louis Rams Emerging Leaders Program. The objective of the program is to provide St. Louis area high school juniors an opportunity to understand the daily operations of business and community organizations. During the program, students observe a variety of different occupations, receive specialized training, develop leadership skills important to their future professional lives and build relationships with students from diverse high schools.

Literacy Efforts

The Rams place a high priority on literacy and partner with area organizations to increase interest in reading and to provide free books for underserved communities.

The Rams also encourage youth to tackle reading by joining the Rams Reader Team. The program — sponsored by Clarkson Eyecare — targets kids from kindergarten to high school, and encourages them to visit their local library, sign up to be a Rams Reader Team member, and choose a book from the reading list created from suggestions by the St. Louis Rams football players, head coach, Mike Martz, and chairman and owner, Georgia Frontiere.

To reinforce the importance of literacy, each week during the program, players visit libraries and schools to read to children.

Rams partners include Metropolitan Association of Public Libraries (MAPL), First Book — St. Louis, the Missouri State Library, A Book In Every Home (Illinois), and Literacy Round Table.

St. Louis Public Schools Rams Fitness Team

The Rams and St. Louis Public Schools have collaborated to create the Rams Fitness Team, a program being implemented in the St. Louis City schools that includes a flag football curriculum, training sessions with Rams personnel and a component on nutrition and lifetime fitness. The Rams Fitness Team also recognizes the importance of physical education teachers in today's schools, through the Physical Education Teacher of the Year program.

Youth Football

The Rams have joined with the NFL to identify opportunities to enhance, promote and recognize positive aspects of football at every level. The team, along with the local chapter of the National Football Foundation, has led the way in creating an Amateur Football Council, designed to support organizations committed to amateur football and to promote youth development, sportsmanship and academic excellence through youth football. As part of these efforts, the Rams host two training seminars: the Mike Martz High School Coaching Clinic and the NFL/National Football Foundation (NFF) Coaching Academy. Additional efforts include saluting the accomplishments of local high school coaches through the Coach of the Week program, recognizing divisional winners at Rams home games and awarding grants to local youth football groups.

Recognizing the significant daily contributions of our nations' military, as well as the St. Louis metropolitan area police and fire departments, the Rams have honored these "everyday heroes" in a variety of ways over the past several years, including in-game salutes and visits to Rams Park.
